Why is digital literacy important?

- Five Year Forward View (2014)
- Personalised Health and Care 2020 (2014)
- Leading Change, Adding Value (2016)
- Information and Digital Technologies Clinical Requirements 2020 (2017)
- Every Nurse an eNurse (2017)
- Topol Review (2018)
HEE’s definition of digital literacy:

“Digital literacies are those capabilities that fit someone for living, working, learning, participating and thriving in a digital society.”
Person-centred Digital Literacy

- Information, data and content
- Creation, innovation and research
- Teaching, learning and self-development
- Communication, collaboration and participation
- Technical proficiency
- Digital identity, wellbeing, safety and security
